

OLD vs. NEW term life insurance

North American Company for Life and Health Insurance®

NOT FOR USE IN CALIFORNIA.

Did you know? 42% of American households would have trouble paying living expenses in six months or less if their primary wage earner died.¹ It's clear that there is a great need for life insurance, but did you know that today's term life insurance may be a lot different from what you're used to?

OLD term life insurance

The old standard for term life insurance is what you'd expect – basic death benefit protection and maybe an accelerated death benefit endorsement (ADBE) for terminal illness.

- Death benefit protection
- Sometimes terminal illness ADBE (6-12 month life expectancy)

VS.

NEW term life insurance

New term life insurance is about offering more value for less, and may include:

- Death benefit protection
- Accelerated underwriting – faster, easier, less invasive
- Convertibility² options – easily convert to a permanent policy
- Lower rates – a potentially lower rate than you'd expect
- Living benefits – critical, chronic and terminal illness (24 month life expectancy³)

Living benefits may be the most important aspect of new term life insurance

A serious illness can affect anyone at any time, and place additional strain on your family's finances. Living benefits can help protect against this financial risk by allowing you to access a portion of your death benefit while living if you are diagnosed with a qualifying illness.

Here are just some of the potential costs you could expect to pay:

$108,405 per year⁴

Private room in a nursing home

$94,900 per year⁴

Licensed home health aide (non-Medicare certified)

An annual increase of

4.65% since 2020.⁴

North American's ADDvantage[®] Term comes with all of the new term features, including living benefits. That's added protection, no added premium⁵!
